

xm radio sent me an e-mail and asked me to give my comment on what i think. well here it is. leave xm radio alone and let them do as they please for the fact that there is already to much control in this world today and to much control on regular radio. so much that some of my favorite stations and radio jockies have been put off the air so just let xm radio be and since we have to pay for it then we know what to expect from xm radio when it comes to the way the talk or the music they play and on regular radio you know that too but there are dumb people that dont relize if they dont like what they heard then change the station and dont be big babies when you see or heard something you dont want to on t.v. or radio. i think the fcc is out of control if you ask me but thats my opinion. anyways gots to go later.
